DOOR IS LEFT OPEN; AMERICA MAY TAKE PART

New Note Expected From Europe Within Few Days Now.

EXPLAIN ATTITUDE

Two "Replies" Submitted to Powers in Meeting It is Learned.

Washington, May 17.—The United States sat back today to await the next move from Genoa.

It is confidently expected in Washington that possibly within the next 48 hours, certainly within a week, the grouping statesmen at Genoa will combine on a new set of proposals to this government that will afford the administration an opportunity to participate in the efforts at European reconstruction on terms of its own making.

In the unlooked for event that these proposals are not forthcoming and should the powers at Genoa decide in failure then the confident belief is expressed here that the U. S. will promptly do some proposing on its own accord.

President Harding and Secretary of State Hughes deliberately left the door open in their response to the allied invitation to The Hague. They phrased the American refusal to go to The Hague so as to virtually invite the powers to reopen the conference and at the same time they gave a delicate hint as to the conditions under which this government would consent to re-engage in Europe's tangled affairs.

"This government," said the note, "has always been ready to join with the governments (at Genoa) in arranging for an inquiry by experts into the economic situation in Russia and the necessary remedies."

This paragraph speaks for itself. It was explained today in official quarters. It means that the United States is convinced that the powers at Genoa have been proceeding on the wrong track, that they have made themselves ridiculous by bickering and quarrelling with the Russian delegates instead of adopting a firm, united policy and saying to Russia, in effect:

"Here are the conditions under which you can be readmitted to the family of nations."

Washington, May 17.—The U. S. transmitted two "replies" to the powers at Genoa with respect to the invitation to participate in the inquiry into Russian affairs. It was learned officially today.

The first was in response to what was described as an "informal feeling" by France, asking whether the United States would participate in an inquiry conducted by experts. The reply of this government was favorable and it was upon this communication that press correspondents at Genoa sent out word that "America accepts."

Later when the formal invitation came through it was found that what was proposed was in reality a continuation of the Genoa conference at The Hague and the response from the United States was prompt and unfavorable. This mix up it was learned today accounted for Ambassador Richard Washburn Child at first informing the powers that the United States would participate.

PINCHOT VICTORY IS CONCEDED BY SPROUL

Philadelphia, May 17.—Governor Sproul issued a statement here today in which he conceded Pinchot's victory. His statement follows:

"Mr. Pinchot's victory is a great personal triumph for him and his engaging personality and great energy as a campaigner contributed much to the success of his canvass."

He, too, a good statesman and was able to capitalize the enthusiasm of the newly enfranchised women voters, and to corral all of the disaffected elements in the state who are out of sorts with the administrations at Washington and Harrisburg and with conditions generally.

"The coal strike and the resulting unemployment in the coal regions turned the scale in the mining counties to an amazing extent and upset the calculations of the most experienced political observers."

"I have sent my congratulations to Mr. Pinchot and I shall be glad to assist him in every way in his campaign against the Democrats."

Philadelphia, May 17.—The Alter majority in the state is slowly sinking as returns continue to come in here. It is now placed at 20,502 for 5,711

HE REPRESENTS GERMANY IN U. S.

Dr. Otto Wiedfeldt, German representative.

For the first time since Count von Bernstorff was banished from America Germany is now represented in Washington by an Ambassador, Dr. Otto Wiedfeldt, who declares, he hopes to rebuild Germany's lost trade with the United States.

RUSSIA TO CARRY OUT OBLIGATIONS WHICH ARE MADE

Trotsky Declares Soviet Anxious to Make Agreement With U. S.

Moscow, May 17.—Despite the outcome of the Genoa conference, Russia will carry out all the international obligations to which she is committed, Leon Trotsky, commissar for war in the soviet government, declared today in an exclusive interview with the International News Service. He said that Russia is anxious to enter into a commercial agreement with the United States.

"It looks as though Genoa probably will result in failure," said the military leader. "But regardless of the outcome Russia will carry out all the international obligations to which she is committed. Russia will assume guarantees for private economic initiative."

"The Moscow government will show European and American capital that the soviet republic is an established fact and that this republic, which is built in accordance with the methods and principles of its founders, must be reckoned with."

LOUISIANA SECTION IS UNDER WATER

ANGOLA, La., May 17.—Six to seven thousand acres of land under cultivation by inmates of the state penitentiary here was inundated by a break in the levee at Bob's Bayou, about 2 1/2 miles from the main buildings of the state farm today.

A thousand convicts are being conveyed to safety from the flooded fields. Besides the state lands, thousands of other acres and hundreds of people are said to be in more or less danger.

SOVIET AGREES TO CONFERENCE UNDER PROTEST

Delegation Accepts Plan for Two Commissions at The Hague

MOVE AMENDMENTS

Tchitcherin Says Anti-Bolshevik Armies Must Be Disbanded.

Genoa, May 17.—The Russian delegation today under protest accepted the plan for two commissions to meet at The Hague for detailed study of the Russian problem. One commission will be mixed, the other will be composed of Russian experts who will furnish all data requested. The Russians moved a number of amendments to The Hague plan. The political sub commission held two meetings today. The general feeling was much more hopeful as the afternoon session began.

George Tchitcherin, head of the Russian delegation in the international economic conference, today told the political sub commission that Roumania and Jugo-Slavia must disband their anti-bolshevik armies, otherwise the proposed truce will be useless.

The truce pact, which is to be signed here, provides that there shall be no aggressions during the negotiations at The Hague, where a mixed commission of Russian experts.

The chief of the Russian delegation precipitated a lively discussion by proposing an amendment to the pact so as to prevent attacks upon soviet territory by bands of "white" or irregular anti-bolshevik forces.

HARDING INVITES STEEL MAGNATES TO DINNER

Washington, May 17.—President Harding has invited a number of the country's leading steel magnates to a dinner at the White House Thursday night. It was learned at the White House today.

Plans for the dinner have been quiet and it was only after the announcement had been carried on New York stock tickers that White House would confirm it. The guest list was withheld, as were all other details.

GEMS ARE SEIZED

Chicago, Illinois, May 17.—Detectives seized $6,000 worth of uncut diamonds in the jewelry shop of A. Quint and Company here. The gems were declared to be positively identified as part of $70,000 worth of jewels stolen from a Virginia plantation in New York, May 5.

Boom In Mexican Silver And Copper Mining Seen

Rise in Price of Silver and Exhaustion of War Time Stocks of Copper Given as Reasons for Expected Development.

Mexico City, May 17.—A great boom in the silver and copper mining industries in Mexico is expected immediately, it was learned here today. This expectation is based upon two developments:

- 1.—The rise in the price of silver.
- 2.—Exhaustion of the war time stocks of copper.

Silver mines in the states of Durango, Guanajuato, Zacatecas, Hidalgo, which were paralyzed by price depression are being prepared for resumption on a big scale now that it is possible to mine silver at a profit. It is believed that the demand from London and New York alone will be sufficient to keep up prices.

Copper mines at Cananea, Nacozari and El Bolson owned respectively by English, American and French capital, will open up June 1.

NEW YORK, May 17.—Foreign silver on the New York market sold today around 72 1/4 an ounce, a new high record for the year.

TELEPHONE FIRMS ARE RULED AGAINST

Columbus, May 17.—By a vote of 4 to 3, the state supreme court ruled against telephone companies dividing cities and their suburbs into zone districts and levying toll charges for phone calls from zone to another in addition to the monthly rental charge.

Overruling an order of the state utilities commission, which approved the zoning system, the supreme court late yesterday decided against the Cincinnati and Suburban Bell Telephone company which had divided the Cincinnati telephone area into eight exchange areas for the purpose of making a flat charge for each area plus not less than 10 cents, toll charges, for telephoning from one area into another.

PART OF CORK SWEEP BY FIRE WEDNESDAY

Dublin, May 17.—Part of Cork was swept by fire early today which destroyed the barracks and adjacent buildings. The barracks were to have been taken over at once by Irish free state troops. The conflagration could be seen for miles.

LATEST FOR THE NEW YORK POLICE

A motor cycle sidecar, equipped with a radio telephone receiving apparatus and a newly invented police automatic rifle, weighing only seven pounds and firing 120 shots a minute, is the latest for the New York police. The rifle is the invention of General John T. Thompson, retired army officer, and has been tried out successfully before army and police officials.

Washington Hails Election Drift As Progressive Win

Both Democrats and Republicans Says Results of Primary are "Striking Victory" for Progressivism—Old Machine Broken.

Washington, May 17.—The result of the Pennsylvania primary, in which Gifford Pinchot, has nearly, if not actually, beaten the famous state machine and won Republican gubernatorial nomination was hailed by both Republicans and Democrats alike in Washington today as "a striking victory" for Progressivism. The uncertainty that existed up to noon as to whether Pinchot has been nominated only served to fan the flames of the capital's interest in the Pennsylvania race. Regardless of who is the winner in the final analysis, it was unanimously agreed upon among senators today that Pinchot's showing against the old Penrose machine is one of the most striking progressive victories in a long time.

PLANS ON FOOT TO PAVE SPRINGFIELD PIKE NORTH OF CORPORATION LINE; MAY ALSO IMPROVE STREET SECTION IN CITY

Taking advantage of a $34,000 credit which Greene County has with the State Highway Commission, county commissioners are laying plans to pave the Springfield pike north from the Xenia City corporation line to the junction of the pike with the Fairfield pike, north of Old Town.

Members of the board of county commissioners will go to Columbus Thursday to make formal application for the amount, which on the advice of highway officials the commissioners will make use of this year, while it is still available. Under the same plan the city commissioners are attempting to obtain a hard surface paving for North Dertig street from the present paving line north to the corporation line.

The county commissioners will have $34,000 available from the State Highway Department for use in paving the Springfield pike, which is at present a dirt road, if they will vote a similar amount from the county road fund, making $68,000 available before the work is started.

Fifteen per cent of the cost of the construction will be assessed against the township trustees, and ten per cent will be collected as assessments from abutting property owners.

The roadway which the county commissioners plan to pave consists of 2 1/2 miles of highway north from the city corporation line to north of Old Town, where the Fairfield pike joins the Xenia-Springfield pike. Bids will be advertised for concrete and bituminous macadam, and since highway officials claim that concrete roads are selling at a cost which would enable the commissioners to do the work here with that material with the money available, it is possible that that substance will be used for paving. Abutting property owners are said to favor the use of concrete over bituminous macadam and it is said that such material would avoid the necessity of frequent repair work and make a lasting turpitude.

Action of the city commissioners on the proposition of paving North Detroit street, north from the end of the present paving to the corporation line, will probably be taken at a joint meeting of city and county commissioners with officials of the Springfield & Xenia traction line, Friday afternoon. The city commission has already had several conferences with Homer Corry, Springfield attorney for the traction company.

The question of the traction company moving its tracks from the east side of North Detroit Street, to the center of the street north of the end of the paving line, is tying up the question of paving that section. The City Commission holds that if the street is to be paved the traction line should be moved to the center of the street, as there are residence properties along the east side of the street, in the Springfield pike addition. The traction company holds that to move the tracks would involve an expenditure of $30,000 on the part of the company, and it is fighting the proposed change on that ground. The traction company at this times does not have a franchise to come into Xenia, the franchise never having been renewed. The City Commission takes the stand that if the tracks are not moved into the middle of the street cars will be stopped at the corporate line.

A final action on the question is expected at the joint conference Friday afternoon.

PREDICT RENEWAL OF CHINA WARFARE

Pao Ting Fu, China, May 17.—General Chang Tso-Lin defeated commander of the northern army, who has just declared independence of Manchuria, and Mongolia, with himself as dictator, today ordered the seizure of the salt supplies (which are heavily taxed in China) the customs duties and other revenues.

Indications point to a renewal of hostilities within a few days. Chang and Sun Yat Sen, head of the Cantonese government, are preparing for new campaign.

CHICAGO STARTS DRIVE AGAINST TERRORISTS

FLOOD WATERS RISE TWO FEET A DAY

Winnipeg, Man., May 17.—Waters of the flooded Assiniboine and Red Rivers are rising two feet a day and there is danger today of wholesale flood of this city. A cloudburst in Minnesota is blamed for the rise of the Red River.

The rushing torrents of the Assiniboine are bearing with them the bodies of cows, horses and pigs as well as timber from farther north in Manitoba. The minister of agriculture has instructed his officers to give what services they can for the relief of flood sufferers.

DEMONSTRATION AGAINST LANDIS AWARD STAGED

Police Seek Men Who Tuesday Night Fired New Building.

LANDIS IS CURSED

Trouble Occasioned By Terms of Wage Award of Judge.

Chicago, May 17.—Red riot and destruction are foretold in dozens of threatening letters which came through the mails today to high city officials, the newspapers, the police, prosecutors and the judges. The letters, crying mad defiance at "capitalists," "orderly society" and the Landis wage award are signed by such titles as "Real Bombers," and "The Burners of Chicago."

As an alternate to such terrorism, the letters dictated that the citizens repudiate the Landis award.

Chief of Police Charles C. Fitzmorris and State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, were among those receiving warning letters. The communications generally were typewritten and contained numerous misspelled words.

Chief Fitzmorris issued an order to "shoot to kill" all suspects found loitering around buildings erected under the Landis award who refuse to submit to questioning. This action followed the burning last night of a seventy-two apartment building by the terrorists.

Chicago, May 17.—Terrorists who made good their threat to use the torch in the war of certain building trades unions against the Landis wage award were being sought today by the police and every law enforcement agency in Chicago. One of the most gigantic drives against gunmen, bombers, incendiaries and thugs in the history of the city was under way.

This drive followed the burning last night of a $500,000 building in course of construction under the terms of the Landis wage award. The fire was set after warnings had been given other residents of the neighborhood that the building would be burned. The Landis award was cursed only by those who gave the warnings.

Damage to the building, which was being erected in Sheridan road, Chicago's most exclusive residential section, is estimated at from $100,000 to $250,000.

As officials went into conference to discuss details of the campaign to stamp out terrorism and punish those responsible, State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe charged that the fire and recent murders and bombings attributed to the labor war, was the work of leaders of the Chicago buildings trades council who sought to bring about a general strike here. Crowe declared that the building trades council was disintegrating because of dissatisfaction of many unions with the conduct of its officials. He declared that these officials were seeking by terrorism "to regain command of the graft that once characterized Chicago building construction for which many labor grafters are now under indictment."

Labor as a whole has no part in it, Crowe said. "It is gang work."

Crowe likewise declared that the heads of the terrorists, gang are "Big Tim" Murphy, Fred Mader, president of the building trades council, and Cornelius "Con" Shea. Murphy is under sentence to prison for robbing the U. S. Mails, Shea and Mader are both ex-convicts. The three are now under indictment for murder in connection with the slaying of two policemen last week. Guards were thrown about the county jail today, where Murphy, Mader and Shea are confined, in the fear that an attempt would be made by their adherents to liberate them. It is reported that Chief of Police Charles Fitzmorris has been warned that he will be killed if the labor heads are now released. Fitzmorris is investigating death threat letters said to have been received by other leaders in threat to stamp out outlawry.

The hunt for the labor members and gunmen extended beyond the city limits for the first time when raids were conducted at Kankakee and at Chicago Heights. No arrests resulted so far as is known.

Police declared today they are in possession of the names of the slayers of Lieutenant Terrance Lyons and Policeman Thomas Clark last week. The names were revealed, they declared, in an alleged confession by Mrs. Margaret Miller, wife of John Miller, who has been identified as the driver of the car in which the slayers fled. Indictments charging murder are to be asked against Mrs. Miller, her husband, and the two men they named—according to an announcement from the state's attorney's office. Mrs. Miller will be charged as an accessory, it is said, upon her admission that she gave food to the fleeing murderers after the slayings.

GEORGE REMUS SENTENCED TO TERM IN JAIL

Convicted of Conspiracy in Cincinnati Man Draws 2 Years

Cincinnati, May 17.—George Remus, who is reputed to have made $4,000,000 here during the past three years through the purchase of several distilleries, was sentenced to serve two years in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., by Judge John W. Peck, in federal court, Tuesday night, following his conviction by a jury of conspiracy to evade the prohibition amendment. Thirteen co-defendants, all charged with being members of Remus' well organized "whiskey ring" were sentenced to terms ranging from one to two years on the same charge. Fines ranging from $1,000 to $10,000 accompanied the sentences.

The maximum penalty was imposed by Judge Peck after the jury had pronounced the defendants guilty, after deliberating until 10:15 o'clock at the night session. Remus also faces several other charges in connection with irregularities in the operation of the Fleischman distillery, which he purchased less than a year ago.

Attorneys for the defense announced following the imposition of the sentences that they plan to file motion for an appeal at once.

SEE NO HOPE OF EARLY SETTLEMENT OF COAL TIE UP

Negotiations Between Miners and Operators Still Deadlocked.

New York, May 17.—Negotiations between anthracite operators and the striking miners are still deadlocked and there is no sign that it will be broken soon, it was admitted today by Edward W. Parker, of Philadelphia representing the mine owners.

The mine owners are not pessimistic of a final agreement, however.

"We are not gloomy," said Mr. Parker. "Twice before we have been six months coming to an agreement and we still have a long way to go before we reach the end of the six months period in this strike. Up to the present however, it must be admitted that no progress has been made. The mine's officials will not listen to anything except the granting of their 19 demands and the operators hold this is absolutely impossible."

Meetings between the wage negotiations committee of the United Mine Workers of America, headed by Philip Murray, vice president of the union, and the operators committee headed by S. D. Warriner of Philadelphia are held here five days a week.

TRIO OF BANDITS SLIP THROUGH RING

Decaturville, Mo., May 17.—Slipping through the cordon of state guards and deputies, three of the five Springfield, Mo., payroll bandits, carrying with them $20,000 in loot were today making their way toward St. Louis in a stolen automobile. The bandits obtained the car, and three days supply of food from E. A. Parrish, a farmer living near here at the point of revolvers.

Their missing companions may be dead in the thickets near Bradshaw flats as the result of two gun battles with posses late yesterday.

A contest, "The Bride's Fate" was one of the principal amusements of the evening, the first prize being won by Miss Lola Latimer, and the second by Mrs. Ollie Telle, who presented their prizes to the bride-elect.

Red and white predominated in the appointments of the luncheon, served later in the evening, hearts being placed at each cover with red candles. A two-course luncheon was served. Miss Finley received many lovely gifts for her future home, from the guests of the evening.

THINK GOVERNMENT DEFEAT IN LONDON IS NOT A CRISIS

London, May 17.—Although members of the ministry ridiculed the idea of a "crisis" the cabinet met today to consider the defeat which the government sustained in the house of commons last night. The government lost, when a motion to adjourn was carried, preventing discussion of the government proposal to tax teachers part of their salary for the educational pension.

A telegram was sent to Premier Lloyd George at Genoa explaining the situation and it is understood that a reply has been received.

It was authoritatively stated by Downing street officials that there was no chance of Premier Lloyd George resigning before the conference is held at the Hague. That meeting, it was declared, will be carried out as planned and a commission will be duly appointed to study and report on the Russian situation.

Premier Lloyd George will return from Genoa at the end of the week, and after a brief rest will take personal command of the situation. In discussion of the pension bill will be under discussion. It is possible that the pension bill may be formally submitted to commons as a test of the house's confidence in the government. If it is passed it will be considered a vote of confidence; if not it will be considered a vote of no confidence.

Austen Chamberlain, government spokesman, is expected to address commons tonight to outline the cabinet's attitude. His speech, if made will be based upon the communication from the premier.

The opponents of the premier are making capital out of the partial failure of the Genoa conference and the government defeat last night, but even the most violent of the anti Lloyd George newspapers do not regard the "crisis" as serious. They point out, however, that evidence has begun to accumulate that the coalition is weakening and that a general election probably will be forced earlier than anticipated.

The Genoa situation and the incident in commons last night, afforded the premier an excellent opportunity to step down and out if he is tired of the strain of office. The general opinion, however, is that the government will continue to make light of attacks against it. There is a possibility that H. A. L. Fisher, president of the board of education may be offered as a sacrifice. His possible resignation has been discussed without any decision being reached.

It was generally conceded today that the government's defeat resulted from poor generalship. The coalition whip ordered all members to the house at 8:30 for a vote but the opponents of the government forced a division at 7:40 o'clock when the government's forces had not yet been marshalled. Chamberlain arrived upon the scene too late to save the day.

MOVES TO DISCHARGE HOUSE ELECTIONS BODY

BUSINESS IN OHIO STEADILY GROWING TOWARD NORMAL

Columbus, May 17.—That business activities throughout Ohio next fall should be "hitting on high" is the belief voiced here today by officials of the Ohio building association league.

These officials stated that they have taken a poll, through 725 secretaries of building and loan associations, in the Buckeye state, which discloses the composite judgment of 700 Ohio financiers and business men to be that the business interests of the state have conquered hard times, that business is better and that all indications favor a gradual increase this summer.

The poll, it was stated, shows that business today is better in 75 of Ohio's 88 counties than six months ago, that business is neither better nor worse in 11 counties and that the nation wide coal strike is held responsible for the fact that business conditions in Athens and Belmont counties is in worse condition than six months ago.

The coal strike and the financial condition of farmers in certain districts are blamed for the inability of some counties to report improvement in business conditions. These counties are: Auglaize, Logan, Preble, Clermont, Morrow, Licking, Jackson, Gallia, Monroe, Noble and Meigs. The other 75 counties report either a slight improvement or that conditions are much better than they were last fall.

ASK WOMEN GOLFERS TO BEGIN PLAY EARLY

Efforts to have women taking part in the golf tournament at the Xenia Country Club Thursday, begin play early, are being made by the committees in charge.

This precaution is being taken owing to the large number of women entered in the tournament, which promises to break all records for competition. It is expected that the greater part of the afternoon will be taken up with the tourney.

THINK GOVERNMENT DEFEAT IN LONDON IS NOT A CRISIS

London, May 17.—Although members of the ministry ridiculed the idea of a "crisis" the cabinet met today to consider the defeat which the government sustained in the house of commons last night. The government lost, when a motion to adjourn was carried, preventing discussion of the government proposal to tax teachers part of their salary for the educational pension.

A telegram was sent to Premier Lloyd George at Genoa explaining the situation and it is understood that a reply has been received.

It was authoritatively stated by Downing street officials that there was no chance of Premier Lloyd George resigning before the conference is held at the Hague. That meeting, it was declared, will be carried out as planned and a commission will be duly appointed to study and report on the Russian situation.

Premier Lloyd George will return from Genoa at the end of the week, and after a brief rest will take personal command of the situation. In duce of the situation the defeated legislation will be under discussion. It is possible that the pension bill may be formally submitted to commons as a test of the house's confidence in the government. If it is passed it will be considered a vote of confidence; if not it will be considered a vote of no confidence.

Austen Chamberlain, government spokesman, is expected to address commons tonight to outline the cabinet's attitude. His speech, it made will be based upon the communication from the premier.

The opponents of the premier are making capital out of the partial failure of the Genoa conference and the government defeat last night, but even the most violent of the anti Lloyd George newspapers do not regard the "crisis" as serious. They point out, however, that evidence has begun to accumulate that the coalition is weakening and that a general election probably will be forced earlier than anticipated.

The Genoa situation and the incident in commons last night, afforded the premier an excellent opportunity to step down and out if he is tired of the strain of office. The general opinion, however, is that the government will continue to make light of attacks against it. There is a possibility that H. A. L. Fisher, president of the board of education may be offered as a sacrifice. His possible resignation has been discussed without any decision being reached.

It was generally conceded today that the government's defeat resulted from poor generalship. The coalition whip ordered all members to the house at 8:30 for a vote but the opponents of the government forced a division at 7:40 o'clock when the government's forces had not yet been marshalled. Chamberlain arrived upon the scene too late to save the day.

MOVES TO DISCHARGE HOUSE ELECTIONS BODY

BUSINESS IN OHIO STEADILY GROWING TOWARD NORMAL

Columbus, May 17.—That business activities throughout Ohio next fall should be "hitting on high" is the belief voiced here today by officials of the Ohio building association league.

These officials stated that they have taken a poll, through 725 secretaries of building and loan associations, in the Buckeye state, which discloses the composite judgment, of 700 Ohio financiers and business men to be that the business interests of the state have conquered hard times, that business is better and that all indications favor a gradual increase this summer.

The poll, it was stated, shows that business today is better in 75 of Ohio's 88 counties than six months ago, that business is neither better nor worse in 11 counties and that the nation wide coal strike is held responsible for the fact that business conditions in Athens and Belmont counties is in worse condition than six months ago.

The coal strike and the financial condition of farmers in certain districts are blamed for the inability of some counties to report improvement in business conditions. These counties are: Auglaize, Logan, Preble, Clermont, Morrow, Licking, Jackson, Gallia, Monroe, Noble and Meigs. The other 75 counties report either a slight improvement or that conditions are much better than they were last fall.

ASK WOMEN GOLFERS TO BEGIN PLAY EARLY

Efforts to have women taking part in the golf tournament at the Xenia Country Club Thursday, begin play early, are being made by the committees in charge.

This precaution is being taken owing to the large number of women entered in the tournament, which promises to break all records for competition. It is expected that the greater part of the afternoon will be taken up with the tourney.

LAST SUNDAY WAS "MOTHERS' DAY" IN MANY CHURCHES

Miss Alice Robertson, sole woman Representative in Congress, has strong convictions that mother's influence and home are not what they used to be. In her usual courageous way, she challenges the mothers to change their ways if they want to save the home from bitter criticism and their daughters from worse.

"A girl is like a flower," she said when asked for an opinion on the subject; "give her sunshine and loving care and she will bloom into beautiful womanhood. Neglect her, and she will grow like a weed, and as common."

"It is silly and useless to criticize a young girl for what she does and the way she does it. She will not be a bit more extreme than the mother allows. So why not go back and place the blame in its proper place—on the mother who permits her daughter to do such things; to go here, there and everywhere unchaperoned?"

"When Suzanne was growing up," said she, "I wanted her to have as many of the pleasures that I had been deprived of as possible. And she did. But I never allowed her to go buggy-riding in the moonlight, or anywhere else, unchaperoned. But she had as many, if not more, beaux than the other girls, and married a splendid man."

Anybody who knows anything at all about the Oklahoma Congresswoman knows about "Suzanne," the Indian girl she adopted at the age of six, and reared and educated. All four of Suzanne's children call Miss Alice "Granny," thirteen adopted grandchildren call her "Grandmother," and dozens of young married couples, to say nothing of hundreds of soldier boys, scattered over the country who benefited from her bounty of mother-love, call her a more precious name still.

"Girls have been the same ever since the world began," she stated. "It's the mothers who have changed. Every chance I get, I give them some old-fashioned advice. I tell them they've got the greatest and sweetest and best in life, if they only knew it, and that I'd trade my job for theirs any day."

"I had rather be the mother of a big family," she trailed off at this juncture, in a voice that wistfully conjured up visions of happy firesides, "than be President. The love that prompts a mother in her work should make the most menial task beautiful."

"I say to mothers that if they played less bridge and took more interest in community work and parent-teachers' associations, we wouldn't be hearing so much about the 'laxity of standards' among the young people."

OUR RULERS ARE TIRED.

It is just as well that the holiday season is almost here. Our rulers and governors are tired. They reflect the popular state of mind. This country, in common with the whole wide world, is slowly working out of the economic and political mess and jumble into which it was thrown by the war.

What we have been taught to call the "Little People" in the terminology we have derived from Europe are doing the work. The so-called "leaders" aren't helping much. Look at Genoa, for example. If you prefer to keep your gaze nearer home, you may look at Washington.

President Harding has confessed to his tiredness and has gone away for a brief spell of recreation and play. That is quite all right. He needed it. And he is not the only one. One of the men who will be called upon to bear a heavy share of the burden and responsibility when we come inevitably to renewing a normal economic and financial relationship with Europe said the other day: "I dread it; I dread the tedious, involved and intricate task. If I knew a place where I could find a mild, equable climate and where it doesn't cost much to live, I think I would chuck all this confusion and worry and go there to live." That was a fagged mind speaking.

The happier people are the men and women here and in Europe who, having no responsibilities of "leadership" or problems of world guidance and direction, simply have gone to work. They are the people who have crops of grain growing and who are producing the necessities of life each after his own fashion in this country. They aren't looking to Washington for guidance or direction. Washington they know is concerned with such political devices as the bonus and the tariff.

THE DECEITFULNESS OF MONEY.

Some years ago, Andrew Carnegie wrote a letter to the Dunfermline Press on the limitations of money. I think it was occasioned by a poem entitled, "Me and Andra," which had been written by some local poet. The poem was very genial and its purpose was to show how few really vital privileges belonged to the millionaire which were denied to his poor and poetic fellow-citizen.

Mr. Carnegie read the poem, and he sent a letter to the editor about it. Here are one or two extracts from the letter: "I have enjoyed his verses he is both philosopher and poet; but he can not know, as I do, how trifling are the advantages of wealth. . . . Beyond a competence for old age—and it need not be great and may be very small—wealth lessens rather than increases human happiness. Millionaires who laugh are rare."

How vast are the promises which riches make to men! They promise to provide a key to every door, ever to doors which lead to the highest stations in society, to the most exalted offices in the state. They promise to win public applause, to purchase the eager service of our poorer fellow men. They promise to chase away the fear of tomorrow, and a thousand little worries which crowd the house when the means are scanty. They promise to buy deep wells and springs of satisfying joy. They will lead me through green pastures and by still waters, for these things will form a part of my own estate.

And now, what real purchasing power belongs to this loud promiser of everything? What can money do for us? Its roads are full of mirages, bright, enticing gleams of water, which vanish as soon as we draw near. One after another the alluring pools turn out to be hot, glowing sand. The conditions into which riches lead us only intensify our thirst. "Millionaires who laugh are rare." What, then, are they doing if they are not laughing? They are carrying burdens which crush all laughter out of them. The real truth of the matter is this—they are carrying the thing which promised to carry them!—Rev. J. H. Jowett.

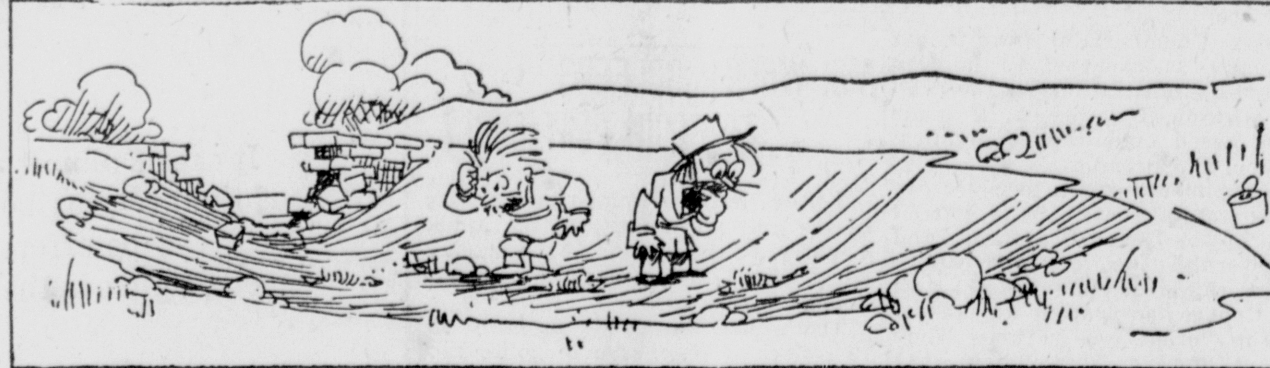

THE PARABLE OF THE LOAFERS AND THE POOR FISH.

And it came to pass that an itinerant prophet called Bol Shevik of strange demeanor came, upon a man called Russ by the side of a silvery pool fishing that he and his house and all that dwelt therein might have whereof to sup. Wherefore spake the prophet, saying, "Fool! Why fishest thou and wastest long hours in labor and waiting? How much easier to catch the fish were it not for the accursed waters?"

Then they took council together and called down malediction upon all waters for the difficulties it imposed in getting at the fish. And blew up the dam. And as the prophet had said, there were fish in abundance and even they that had been slothful in fishing might seize as much as they who had been diligent and those who were not killed in the rush did eat their fill.

And it came to pass that having no thought for the morrow there came a day when there remained neither fish to eat nor water in which they might multiply and replenish the earth, and Russ and his house and all that dwelt therein were hungrier. Then besought they of their neighbors that they might drain of their ponds into the empty one which they had.

And the neighbor spake saying "Pooh Pooh! First shall thou fix thy dam, that what is bestowed there may be preserved and the fish therein multiply unto the third and fourth generation." But Russ taking council with the prophet would not, for was it not written that all water made it difficult to catch the fish and was therefore accursed. And they went away in anger and Uncle Sam fed the multitude for verily if it were not for the water there would be no fish.

The work of erecting the clock in the court house has about been completed. The dials have not as yet been lighted, owing to the fact that the building has not been wired.

The fisherman have been bringing in some fine fish from the river lately. J. E. Jones caught one yesterday that weighed three pounds and a quarter.

A LINCOLN STORY—AND A REFLECTION OR SO
I find in the notes of Walt Whitman a fine Lincoln story.

all life has lost its appeal because we are so close to some particularly black and unhappy event.

In the gloomiest period of the Civil War, Lincoln was waited upon by a large delegation of bank presidents from all over the country.

THE TRUTH AT LAST.

The truth concerning Reuben Rife has ne'er been put across; men thought because he beat his wife he was a total loss. He was a man who earned his bread in labor's honest sweat, and for long years his neighbors said he was a good safe bet. His wife he treated like a queen; he treated her too well; and in her course the cause is seen of trouble that befell. With too much idle time on hand, she fooled with this and that; once she was drummer in the band, again, an acrobat. She studied boxing in the school that old Jeff Demsey ran, till she could whip a kicking mule, and paralyze a man. And being anxious to display the skill she had acquired, she soaked poor Reuben every day until she made him tired. At first he smiled a sickly grin when his Miranda Rose would swat him lightly on the chin or biff him on the nose. At first she held herself in check, dealt friendly short arm jerks, and when she hit him in the neck it didn't jar his works. But soon she gave him all she had, haymakers and repeat, and when she hit his liver pad she'd lift him off his feet. And it was then that Reuben's ire, long dormant, filled his breast; he smote her like a house afire, and knocked her galley west. And people say he is no good, his every act they roast; they do not know how long he stood, the household whipping post. And half the time we do not know the facts when we arise and call down judgment, doom and woe on other human guys.

ANOTHER XENIA CASE

Just another report of a case in Xenia. Another typical case. Kidney ailments relieved in Xenia with Doan's Kidney Pills.

E. L. Richards, prop. barber shop, 514 W. Second St., Xenia, says: "A short time ago I began using Doan's Kidney Pills to relieve me of the terrible misery in my back. My back was sore and ached constantly and there seemed to be a heavy throbbing through it. Mornings my back and shoulders were so lame and stiff I could hardly get out of bed. When I stooped over I had sharp pains through my back. My kidneys were irregular in action and at night I had to get up several times to pass the kidney secretions, which were scalding and highly colored. Doan's Kidney Pills were highly recommended so I got some. Several boxes relieved me of those sharp pains in my back and my kidneys became normal."

NEED COOPERATION
THROUGHOUT WORLD

Washington, May 17.—Closer cooperation between American and European business and industry is essential if the industrial and economic chaos in Europe is to be overcome, it was declared in keynote addresses delivered here at the convention of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

Joseph H. Defrees, president of the national chamber, voiced his belief that "conditions are better and a revival of business confidence is at hand."

"I talk confidently of the future," Defrees said, "because I share in the general confidence that business conditions are on the mend. But it would not be fair to you or to my own reputation as a man of some judgment not to call attention to the clouds threatening even our peace and our prosperity which have gathered and are still gathering in other parts of the world."

"Those things that we fought for and that our boys crossed the sea to defend, the defeat of militarism and the safety of our own and other free governments have not yet been attained."

Quick Relief for Stomach Trouble

Money Back if Dr. Jackson's Digestive and Liver Powder Doesn't Do It. Free Sample Sent On Request.

Dr. A. L. Jackson practiced medicine in Ohio during thirty busy years. A great many of his patients were sufferers from stomach, bile, and for these he evolved Dr. Jackson's Digestive and Liver Powder, using it for 30 years in his practice.

Dr. Jackson's ripe experience taught him the superiority of powder over tablets, capsules and pills. The stomach does not have to digest a powder. When it reaches that organ immediate action is possible.

The swift work of Dr. Jackson's Digestive and Liver Powder proves this. In cases of acute indigestion it usually brings immediate relief. Ordinary evils of indigestion—sour and gassy stomach, heartburn, bloating—are usually banished by the very first dose. If not satisfied with results after using the first box your money will be cheerfully refunded. At most druggists, 60c. Send for free sample. Jackson Medicine Company, Zanesville, Ohio.

WILL COMPILE NEW DIRECTORY UNDER C. OF C. AUSPICES

Arrangements to issue a new city directory here were made Tuesday by Charles T. Selby, representing the Caron Directory Company, of Louisville, Ky., who began preliminary work on the new book Wednesday morning.

Mr. Selby has obtained the endorsement of the Chamber of Commerce and received encouragement Tuesday from a number of business men he was able to meet and confer with.

His visit Tuesday was to learn sentiment regarding the plan and the attitude of people questioned resulted in the determination of the company to begin immediate plans to issue the new directory.

The Caron Director Co., is the same company that issued the last directory published for Xenia, in 1918. A force of from six to eight people are expected to arrive here Monday to begin the work of soliciting for names. Owing to the fact that considerable territory has been annexed by the city since the last directory was issued, it is believed that the solicitors will find a substantial increase in population.

Every person in Xenia over 16 years of age, will be listed in the new directory, according to Mr. Selby, who said Wednesday that the solicitors, who would canvass Xenia are trained and expert directory men and that a careful checking system after the names are obtained, precludes the possibility of names being left out or of errors in the lists. The new directory will have many new features not included in the old, and will be published on the same plan as larger city directories, according to Mr. Selby.

The work of solicitation will take about five weeks it is said, and the directory will then be compiled in this city, where it will be possible to avoid errors by verifying every question. After the directories are issued, copies will be sent to 300 Chambers of Commerce in the leading cities of the United States, it is said.

The headquarters of the directory company in this city will be at the Chamber of Commerce.

OVER 800 BANKERS ATTEND CONVENTION OF ORGANIZATION

Meeting Opens Wednesday Morning in Cincinnati; Women Present.

Cincinnati, May 17.—More than 800 bankers from Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, and West Virginia had registered here this morning for the opening of the thirty-second annual convention of the Ohio Bankers' Association and every incoming train brought a new delegation. The feminist movement was plainly visible as more than one half of the visiting bankers were accompanied by their wives and families, thus establishing a precedent for the convention, according to S. A. Roach, association secretary, of Columbus.

The visitors were accorded a royal reception by the Cincinnati bankers club at a reception tendered to the out of town delegations at the hotel Sinton this morning.

"All Cincinnati welcomes you who have so often saved our state and country in great crises," Mayor Geo. P. Carrol said in a brief speech at the reception, Charles W. Dupuis, Cincinnati, president of the State Association, presided at the reception.

In response to the address of welcome of the mayor, J. R. Kraus, vice president of Ohio Union Trust Company of Cleveland, complimented the members of the Cincinnati club upon the "matchless hospitality of the ladies committee."

Following the reception the visiting delegation enjoyed an automobile tour of the city during which they visited the various show places. A visit to the private art galleries of Charles P. Taft, brother of Chief Justice William H. Taft, concluded the tour.

The bankers then returned to the Sinton hotel for a short business session while their wives and families were entertained by the members of the ladies committee at the Hamilton country club, where a swimming exhibition was witnessed.

TO USE MOTORBOATS TO PREVENT SMUGGLING

Washington, May 16—Speedy motorboats will be used to prevent smuggling of liquor from Canada to the United States through Detroit. Prohibition Director James Davis of Michigan announced here today after a conference with Commissioner Haynes. The government motor boat guard will cooperate with patrol boats of the Detroit police, Davis said in putting an end to river smuggling and thus close one of the chief gateways for liquor smuggling from Canada into the United States.

SEVERAL TEACHERS TO BE DROPPED FROM HIGH SCHOOLS AS A RESULT OF STRAITENED FINANCIAL CONDITION

Straitened financial conditions that necessitate stringent economic measures will be exercised by the Xenia City Board of Education to keep expenses within income during the coming year, it is announced by Superintendent of Schools C. A. Waltz.

The reduction of the school year from ten months to nine and the slicing off the payroll of several teachers now in employ, whose services it will be necessary to dispense with because there will not be sufficient money to pay their salaries, are among measures to be adopted in the retrenchment policies being put in effect by the board.

An unanticipated reduction in operating moneys occasioned when the new school levy began to operate last year and the discovery that it is impossible for the schools to operate under the present income at the present rate of expense is back of the movement of the board to economize on next year's anticipated expenses.

The board, it is said, was under the impression last year that when the new three mill levy for school purposes came into operation, that the old school levy would continue the same as before, and it operated under that impression. However, the fractional reduction of the old school levy amounted to between $15,000 and $18,000 less money than the board expected for operating expenses and made the school organization financially top-heavy.

The reduction of the length of the school year from ten to nine months will not materially affect studies, according to Superintendent Waltz. The reduction in actual time lost for school purpose will not be as great as the term sounds on its face, and for this reason, it is believed this economic measure can be put in effect without difficulty, saving the board the money represented in one month's salary on every teacher employed.

The slicing down of the teaching force, is proving the most vexing to the board. While no subjects now in effect in the schools will have to be dropped through this policy of retrenchment, many departments will have to shift along on less teaching help, it is said, involving the necessity of giving teachers more classes to handle daily. So far, the number of teachers to be retained, has not been finally decided, although it is announced that it will not be possible to renew the contracts of about ten or twelve, even at less salary. These teachers will come from the faculty of Central High School, McKinley Junior, High School and a few from the grade schools. What teachers will be retained for the next teaching year, has not been announced and will probably not be announced for several weeks yet. The reduction of the school term and the slicing of the teaching payroll, will save the schools approximately $27,000 next year in salaries alone, it is said.

As a result of the policy of retrenchment, athletics at Central High School may have to shift for themselves for a time at least. The board has announced that it will be unable to pay the salary demands of Coach Jerry L. Katherman, and that unless an athletic coach, who will give part time to teaching, can be secured at a much smaller salary that department will have to do without a head. It is said, Supporters of athletics on the board, expressed themselves Tuesday as regretful of the enforced departure of Katherman, who brought the school its first football championship in history, and whose basketball team made the most enviable record in the state tournament ever turned in by a Central High quintet. They admit that it will be difficult to obtain a successor to the local mentor, who will be able to repeat with championship teams next year, and at the same time are faced by the possibility of not being able to retain a coach at all. The board will have a certain amount of money to pay a coach and teacher combined and it will be necessary to find a man of that type willing to work for that salary, if the school is to have supervised athletics next year, it is understood.

FOUR DANCING FEET

BY JANE PHELPS

HAPPINESS CHASES WORRIES

"Oh, Ma, I'm so glad you waited up tonight!" Gertie said as her mother gave her the hot tea she had made. "Fagin gave me $25 extra when I told him about Tim."

"That's fine, dearie, now you can get a hat and either a coat or dress," "I'll get a coat, Ma, then no one will see the dress," her mind upon her motor rides with Tom Norris when he had wrapped her in his coat. Perhaps he wouldn't come and if he did he might not take her out riding, but she would be ready if he did and anyway the coat would, as she said, cover the dress for street wear as well.

"We'll go shopping tomorrow, so as to be sure it won't get used for other things," Mrs. Cummings said. "Too well she knew there was always need for every extra dollar, and she also knew Gertie's generosity. This time nothing should prevent her having the things she so needed."

"It's Saturday and Jennie will be home all the afternoon with Tim," the mother went on. "Now, run along to bed. Your eyes are like two stars!"

"And, mother! I told Fagin about the butterfly dance and he is awfully interested; said he would buy the clothes for me. I must try and practice more than I have lately. I guess I can work it out by myself. You know I got that magazine with one of the dancers on the stage doing it, and that will help a lot. If I get stuck I'm going to tell him I want a couple of lessons in one of the schools that teach fancy dancing. I think he would be willing to pay for them. There's quite a lot more people come now because of my dance—he told me so—and this new one will be even better. He's real good to me, Ma, and I was afraid he'd send me away because of that fight."

"I guess perhaps he's good to himself dearie. If you didn't help his business he wouldn't be spending money on clothes for you to dance in." "Of course! But he's been better than I had any right to expect. You see Ma, I go against what he wants in some ways. I won't sit at the tables and order drinks and things, and that all brings him money."

"Well—run on to bed!"

Gertie dreamed of Tom Norris and his motor car, of a new hat and cloak. Then she slept heavily toward morning, and it was later than usual when she awoke.

"There's a messenger boy been here, he brought this," Jennie handed her sister a crumpled envelope. Quickly Gertie tore it open and with flushed cheeks, and quickened breathing read:

"Am in town. Will call for you to take a ride in the country if it is pleasant. Be ready at 2 o'clock if you will go Tom Norris."

"You'll have to get up now, Gertie if we are going to get your hat and cloak this afternoon," Mrs. Cummings appeared in the doorway. "What's the message about?"

"I can't have any hat and coat least ways, not today! Tom is here, Ma, here in New York, and he is coming around to take me into the country—coming at 2 o'clock. Here read it yourself," she jumped lightly from the bed, thrust the note into her mother's hand and commenced to dress.

"I'd get the hot and coat and tell him to come another day," Jennie said. "You are awful shabby in your old ones."

Mrs. Cummings looked up. "No! If he don't like me in my old clothes he wouldn't in new ones. Of course I'd like to look nice for him, but I wouldn't miss going for all the coats and hats in New York."

"That's right, dearie, you go! Now come and help me, Jennie, Gertie can have her breakfast in a few minutes, she will have time to fix her hair and get ready. I'll press your dress. It will make it look a bit better," and with the dress over her arm, followed by Jennie, she left the room.

Alone Gertie again read the message, then pressed the paper to her lips. "He hasn't forgotten me. He wants me to go out with him again!" she whispered than sang softly from sheer happiness, clothes everything forgotten in the rush of joy.

SIXTY MILLION DOLLARS GAINED

—in deposits by Ohio Building Associations last year—a year of financial and commercial depression—shows the rapidly growing popularity of the building association investment in Ohio.

There are good reasons why this should be so. In 18 years no depositor in an Ohio Building Association has lost even one of the Hundreds of Millions of Dollars which they hold and the investment is now regarded as being dependable under all conditions. Then, because of the nature of their business and the methods employed, their expenses amount to less than 1% of their assets, enabling them to pay higher rates of Dividends and Interest than is possible for most savings institutions.

Let us tell you why this association last year gained $1,300,000—and why we can give you conveniences not combined in any other investment yielding as good returns.
